

Generation Rebellion

Creatively exploring the climate emergency

This activity pack contains four activities to help both older and younger people think about the climate emergency and what it means to be an activist.

Print from pages 2 - 5

---

Share your work with Magic Me

We would love to see your artworks - email photos of your work or activity feedback to emilybird@magicme.co.uk or call 07401 101 400

If you are sharing your work on social media please tag us in your posts

Twitter @MagicMeArts / Facebook @MagicMeArts
Instagram @magicmearts

FOUNDATION FOR
FUTURELONDON

Magic Me's Generation Rebellion Zine Project was funded by Foundation for Future London

Activity 1
My Letter to the Earth

Use the blank space below to write a letter or poem to the earth.

Here is an example...

Dear Mother Earth, Thank you for all the beautiful things you've given me. Like flowers, the beautiful flowers, rainbows, bright and colourful rainbows, butterflies, very interesting designs butterflies, puppies, cute puppies. All these things have a purpose. Flowers help other plants grow, rainbows add beauty to the earth, butterflies help pollinate flowers, puppies add love to life. And of course, love is life. Thank you for the freedom, peace and love. And life. Thank you for making my life beautiful. Best wishes, Layla

Activity 2

How do you think the Earth is feeling at the moment?

Use the blank space below, to draw, colour-in, paint or write a few words about how the Earth is feeling.

Activity3 My Space

Use the blank space below to create a positive image or selection of images that makes you and the Earth feel good.

This could be a drawing, an emoji, a photograph, something you have seen in your garden or out on your daily walk, or even a collage arrangement of bits and bobs from around your home.

Activity 4
Letter from the Earth

If the Earth could write a letter to you right now, what do you think it would say? Write your letter in the space below.

Here is an example...

Hi Rihanna, I really appreciate that you have taken some time out so I can replenish myself and be of full benefit to you again. Yours truly, The Earth