

Magic Me Fundraising Coordinator Job Pack 2019

“Magic Me uses the arts to bring different generations together to spark ideas and build better, closer communities. Their range of inventive work challenges stigma, crosses social and cultural divides and celebrates human connections.”

Nomination for the 2017 Liberty Human Rights Arts Award

Hello and thank you for your interest in the Fundraising Coordinator role at Magic Me.

Now is a great time to be joining our team, as Magic Me celebrates its 30th birthday. Since its founding in 1989, Magic Me has pioneered intergenerational arts practice from our base here in Tower Hamlets. This work with local younger and older people continues today, and Magic Me has also grown to serve other communities across London, and the east of England. Our story for the past 30 years has been one of innovation and constant evolution in the field of intergenerational arts. In 2019 we'll be introducing new programmes in Essex and east London.

The Fundraising Coordinator will work directly with me, Susan Langford, Magic Me's Founder and Director, and collaborate regularly with other staff. You will have an integral role in the future of Magic Me and our ability to benefit the people and communities we serve. By increasing support and attracting new funds, you will enable Magic Me to reach more people and affect positive change to their lives, whilst gaining invaluable experience in fundraising across all areas of the charity and arts funding landscape.

We're not only looking for someone with the skills to fulfil the role, but someone who is aligned with our organisational culture. At Magic Me we strive to nurture, develop and support everyone who works with us. We recognise that to meet our organisational objectives we need to be ambitious for all those we work with. We seek to be fully inclusive and have real diversity across the team, believing this enriches the experience of everyone within the Magic Me community.

If Magic Me sounds like a good fit for you, then we would love to hear from you. Please read the rest of this pack for more information on the role.

Best wishes,

Susan Langford, Director

WHO WE ARE:

Magic Me's mission is to bring together younger and older people in our community, for mutual benefit, learning and enjoyment. We do this primarily through high-quality arts projects, where people of different generations learn together and from one another.

Magic Me arts projects challenge people to stretch themselves and what they think they can do and be. Working with highly skilled and experienced artists, they learn new skills, share their ideas and feelings, and become comfortable collaborating with people who are different in age, ethnicity or life experience.

All our activities are run in partnership with other organisations, large and small. We have delivered hundreds of projects with thousands of people in schools, care homes, galleries, museums, open spaces and community centres. We are a learning organisation - time for participants, artists and staff to reflect on their progress is integral to our approach.

OUR WORK:

Last year we worked with 709 older and younger people with 421 volunteers. Current projects include: Arts & Ages and Quality Street which link school pupils with older people using different art forms such as storytelling and singing. Older people living alone gain a new sense of purpose, encouraging better well-being. Children gain new skills and social confidence. Cocktails in Care Homes connects' isolated care home residents with adult volunteers at monthly evening parties. Parties include music, drinks, nibbles and party themes. They provide regular visitors, fresh conversation and connections with life beyond the care home.

DIVERSITY AND INCLUSION

At the heart of Magic Me is the basic understanding that all people are individuals, with a capacity for growth and change at whatever point they are in their lives. We work to challenge notions of 'normal' which categorise us by, for example, age, gender, ethnicity, disability, sexuality or physical appearance. Magic Me believes that everyone is an expert in their own lives; we each have the insider knowledge and solutions to make our communities work better.

As an organisation we are committed to the principles of equal opportunity for all because Magic Me:

- believes that striving for equality of access and opportunity is right and natural justice.
- believes that welcoming and increasing real diversity of people across our organisation and programme will:
 - enrich and improve the experience of our participants, our workforce, our audiences and our community.
 - challenge and enrich our artistic practice, our intergenerational practice and the outcomes of our projects
- recognises its legal requirements to do so.

We want our workforce to be truly representative of both society and our participants, and for each employee to feel respected and able to give their best. We are also committed to combatting unlawful discrimination of participants or the public.

Magic Me meets its statutory obligations and therefore this policy reflects the provisions of current legislation relating to the protected characteristics age, sex, race (be it colour, race, nationality or national origin), sexual orientation, disability, gender or gender reassignment, pregnancy and maternity, marriage or civil partnership and religion or belief.

Magic Me is also committed to equality of opportunity for people not protected specifically by law, but who can experience discrimination. This includes, for example, people who belong to a trade union or are refugees.
